Eden Hall Wines

Eden Valley, where the vines enjoy a long, cool ripening period, is regarded as the jewel in the crown of the Barossa. Nestled in rolling hills of the Eden Valley lays the historic Avon Brae property. From the Avon Brae vineyard the very best parcels of fruit are reserved for picking at optimum flavour to be made into wine under the Eden Hall label.

Winemakers comments – James Irvine, Joanne Irvine.

The 2003 Eden Hall Cabernet Sauvignon shows voluminous bouquet of leafiness violets, spicy French and American oak overlaying the richness of perfectly ripened fruit finishing with full flavour and abundant rounded tannins. A wine of power yet elegance with great rewarding potential.

A wine of great potential not only reflecting the exceptional year but most certainly the individuality of the vineyard and the regional characters of the terroir.
