

2015 EDEN HALL RESERVE RIESLING

RRP $35 / 1 2035 / ★★★★★

95

Pale quartz-green; a beautifully delineated riesling, the gently flowery bouquet opening the curtains for a super-intense and finely structured palate driven by lime/lemon fruit, crisp acidity and a faint touch of CO₂. 11.3% alc.

What can we expect from this wine with age?

This is our first Reserve Riesling, more restrained and aloof than its stablemate. Its acid backbone will steal it for the long haul and developed characters will only arrive on the scene late in its life.

What's the biggest cellaring mistake people should avoid and why?

Collect wines you like and intend to drink, but in sufficient quantities to allow you to enjoy their development over the years. Don't just wait for the one big day that might end in tears!
